

Dr. Chris Newton Excellence in Education and Diabetes Care Award

The "Dr. Chris Newton Excellence in Education and Diabetes Care Award" was created by the University of Florida (UF) College of Medicine to honor Dr. Newton for his many contributions in teaching, research and patient care in the field of diabetes. His legacy will be remembered every May with an award and lecture held at UF by an outstanding diabetes educator, clinical researcher and caring clinician. The aim is to continue promoting the values that Chris lived for and find novel and better ways to improve the lives of people with diabetes.
